Disco wasn’t just music. It wasn’t just the clubs where people went to dance. Disco was a social movement, a reaction to hippies and rock, a dance craze. Disco was a lifestyle! And that lifestyle was groovy. Can you dig it?

“Disco is music for dancing, and people will always want to dance.”
— Giorgio Moroder, award-winning composer/producer and the “Father of Disco”
Boogie Wonder Band is the most celebrated disco band of our time. They bring traditional disco to a whole new level and get crowds into the music like few others can.

The Band is on the forefront of neo-funk-and-disco bands that capture the horn-fired sounds — and hedonistic fun — of the ’70s. Band members, in spectacular costumes, include Apollo Johnson, Foxy B Bellucci, Boogie Cindy, Marky de Sax, Spank Williams, and Pistol Pete.
